Urban Land Institute
Founded in 1936, ULI is an independent global nonprofit supported by members representing the entire spectrum of real estate development and land use expertise. The mission of the Urban Land Institute is to provide leadership in the responsible use of land and in creating and sustaining thriving communities worldwide.
ULI members have access to the worldwide ULI network.

What sets this network apart is its diverse mix of real estate and land use professionals and public sector leaders. There is no better organisation for making connections, both local and global, that lead to business deals and a clear view on where cities and markets are headed.

ULI members stay on top of their game by leveraging the high-quality, unbiased information ULI provides. Through applied research, publishing, and media, ULI provides examples and case studies presenting best practices from around the globe. ULI has a culture of sharing both what works and what doesn’t, and innovative thinking on what’s next for the real estate development and land use industry.

ULI offers its members opportunities to make a difference in their local communities and on a global scale by supporting the institute’s research and contributing their expertise. From advising cities on land use challenges to promoting the career development of young professionals and education initiatives, ULI members make a lasting impact for current generations and those to come.

Why belong?

“ULI offers excellent opportunities to meet with leaders with very different backgrounds and share knowledge and experience in real estate development. This is a step forward, not only towards economic success, but also sustainable land use.”

ALEXANDER OTTO
CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER, ECE PROJEKTMANAGEMENT
As members of ULI, we represent every profession in the real estate development and land use industry and the public sector. What we share is a commitment to exchanging ideas and experiences, to learning best practices from each other, and to working together to create thriving communities worldwide.

Who belongs

As members of ULI, we represent every profession in the real estate development and land use industry and the public sector. What we share is a commitment to exchanging ideas and experiences, to learning best practices from each other, and to working together to create thriving communities worldwide.
A hallmark of ULI is its rich programme of events, which connects members in person and provides opportunities to expand professional networks, align business strategies and synergies. Each year, ULI hosts four major global conferences in Europe, Asia-Pacific and the Americas.

PARTICIPATE in local National Council events offered in more than 70 cities in Europe, Asia, Australia, and North America.

JOIN ULI member programmes, such as a Young Leaders Group (YLG) for professionals under 35, ULI NEXT for those between 35 and 45 years of age, or apply for one of ULI’s exclusive Product Councils—small shared-interest groups that focus on sector-specific real estate issues.

NETWORK with members at the annual ULI Europe Conference which takes place each February and attracts over 500 industry leaders from approximately 25 different countries. The conference is viewed by many industry leaders as the must-attend real estate gathering in Europe and helps set the real estate agenda for the year ahead.

Visit europeconference.uli.org for details.

“Being a member of ULI allows you to have access to over 38,000 members globally, to education, to an important network, to events, and also to ideas. You have the opportunity to be able to participate in an organisation that stands for innovation and leadership in the real estate industry in the US, Europe, and Asia.”

Learning and education

TAP into the expertise of leading industry figures by attending local ULI events and annual ULI conferences to learn about the latest trends affecting your business and cities.

BENEFIT from mentoring opportunities and the experience shared by senior ULI members or join educational webinars to further your professional development.

USE ULI’s publications and case studies covering industry topics—from emerging hot markets to urban densification issues and best practices in mixed-use development—to sharpen your game.

Emerging Trends in Real Estate® is an annual series of forecast publications that reflect the views of leading real estate executives in three global regions, providing an outlook on real estate investment and development, finance and capital markets, as well as trends by property sector and geographical area.
PARTICIPATE in ULI advisory service panels that make recommendations to cities and communities on solutions to their land use challenges.

SERVE on committees or in leadership roles in your local ULI National Council, at the European or global level to help shape ULI programmes and deliver real impact.

SHARE your expertise by serving as a speaker or writing an article.

MENTOR young professionals to help nurture the career development of future industry leaders.

VOLUNTEER to teach UrbanPlan, an educational initiative recently launched in Europe to help students understand the relationship between community growth, development, and economic vitality.

“Being a ULI member has been the single most important factor in the growth and the success of my company. The people that I’ve met, the many things I’ve learned, and the opportunity to serve and give back to the organisation have truly changed my life and my business and given me a whole new vantage point of understanding the way the real estate world ticks.”

PRESIDENT AND CREATIVE DIRECTOR, INTERCOMMUNICATIONS
ULI in Europe

ULI has been active in Europe since the early 1990s and today we have over 2,700 members across 27 different countries. We have a particularly strong presence in the major European real estate markets of the UK, Germany, France, Belgium and the Netherlands but are also active in emerging markets such as Turkey and Poland.

Besides the annual ULI Europe Conference, members enjoy a rich calendar of over 200 meetings, networking receptions and site visits hosted each year by our National Councils, Young Leader Groups, European and local Product Councils.

ULI is at the forefront of innovative research tied to members’ areas of interest. Access to exclusive content like ULI Case Studies is one of the many benefits of membership.
